

Nora Spence is an experienced inner city educator and is presently the Principal of Church Street Public School. Nora has a Masters of Education from OISE, University of Toronto and is a Co-Founder of The Bookshare Program, a spring-time program in which children from schools in North Toronto collect books and summer reading material for their counterparts in inner city schools.